Algernon Daingerfield's Death Leaves Irreplaceable Gap In American Racing Scene

VIRGINIA has lost her pre-eminent representative in the thoroughbred world in the passing of Algernon Daingerfield, for almost forty years past the assistant—or acting—secretary of The Jockey Club.

Seventy-two years of age and a native of Harrisonburg, in Rockingham County, during the lengthy period he had held the very responsible and honorable position above-named he had earned a reputation and, to use a familiar phrase, "set a pattern", which placed him in a class by himself among those men officially identified with racing in America.

Everything about him was exceptional. To begin with, his parentage—he having been the son of the late Major Foxhall Daingerfield, the most successful breeder of thoroughbreds in America since the antebellum days, while his mother belonged to one of the most distinguished racing families of the Old South.

Then his personality. It was unique. Bred and nurtured in our greatest turf tradition, he was its most living embodiment. And, one feels tempted to say—its last. For it would be difficult to name another one still among us at all his equal in that regard.

His whole life was dedicated to the sport. He knew it in all its

Sky's Double Made Model Hunter At Rochester

BY EDWARD DICKINSON

The 4 day horse show at Rochester, N. Y. (June 11-14) surprised every one and had for itself every kind of luck from a perfectly gorgeous spring night's opening to a down pour that necessitated the postponement of one program for a whole day and ran the show that was supposed to be completed on Saturday night clear through an added Sunday afternoon (June 15).

Sky's Double by Thunderation, a striking, 3-year-old owned in Rochester by Mr. and Mrs. William C. Faugh Jr., a gelding who has been doing a lot of winning in model, 3-year-old, and various age classes, knocked over the suitable to become hunters event and the model hunters class, in the latter placing over H. Duane Clark's Beau Soliel, Dou-

Scranton Adds Race For Show Jumpers

The Scranton Horse Show, a member of the American Horse Show Assn., will incorporate a novel event in its two day fixture, slated for July 12-13. According to word from Major Lee White, Secy.-Mgr., of the show, two steeplechases will be run, the one on the opening day, Saturday, to be 1 mile, 8 jumps about a half mile track, and the one on Sunday to be of 1 1-2 miles. The purse money in each race will be $150, divided $75, $50 and $25.

Only horses which have taken part in either two jumper or hunter classes will be eligible to run in the Scranton Horse Show steeplechases.

Three and Five Gaited, Hunter and Jumper divisions will have a total cash prizes of $2,500, with $250 stake classes in each division. The hunter and jumper judges will be John W. Morris, West Cornwall, Conn., and Col. D. Douglas Young, of New York.

ALAS CHAMPION AT UPPERVILLE

Record Number Of Yearling Colts Parade Under Trees At Oldest Horse Show

It was Alas by Out The Way—Oh Dear at the Upperville Horse Show who took the championship. Alas who had but just finished winning the Devon Championship for the Charles C. Harrison, Jr.'s of Zulla and not only did this fine, honest lightweight win the highest honor at the oldest show in America, but she won it convincingly ahead of her nearest rivals, Mrs. M. E. Whitney's Spring Hope with 11 points and Miss Deborah Rood's superb conformation mare, Moving Picture who was able to amass but 10 points to Alas' 20.

When lined up in the Conformation Hunter Preliminary the judges had Alas, Moving Picture, the George Watts Hills' Balkonian, Troop of U. S. Randle's, Big Boy of the George Greenhalghs Springsbury Stable and Spring Hope of Llangollen Farms with Miss Ellie Wood Keith up. It was apparent that when it came to conformation, the daughter of Out The Way was not up to Miss Rood's brown mare by Thunderstorm out of Running Deer. Moving Picture is a striking conformation sort, and whereas it would be hard to fault Alas, when lined up with Miss Rood's mare, Judges Pleas B. Rogers, Manley Carter and Carl Furr seemed to like the exceptional quality of the brown mare over the champion. Moving Picture is truly a picture. A trifle better quality in the neck, a little better shoulder, a somewhat strong-

Mandingham Tops Stakes Winners At Delaware

Arthur White-Trained Buck Langhorne Defeats Epindel For Kenneth Gilpin

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mellon's patience and faith were well rewarded last Wednesday June 18, as their Rokeby Stable's Mandingham romped about the Delaware Park stake course to win the $6,000 added Georgetown Steeplechase Handicap to set a new record of 3:42 3-5. Jockey E. Roberts gave the talented 7-year-old son of The Satrap*—Float, by Man o'War, trained by Jack Skinner, an unerring and quick witted ride, helping the speedy stake winner on at least two occasions.

Otherwise Mandingham, curiously enough, bred, raised, raced on the flat to win handicaps and even taught to jump by William du Pont Jr., who also laid out and designed

Essex Followers View Puppy Show At Club House

There were perhaps over 100 on hand last Sunday afternoon, June 15, to see Simpson Dean, M. F. H. of Vicmead Hunt (Del.) and Joseph B. Thomas, ex-M. F. H. judge the 1941 Essex Foxhound entry. A special snow-fenced in ring had been built on the lawn below the club house porch, with a bench in the middle, on which final candidates for top honors were placed for severest scrutiny.

Rain broke up the judging of the bitches and the championship award was made up on the porch with awnings flapping and spectators pressing close about, an "acid test" for a young puppy. Valorous, with well sprung ribs, wide back and great front, a very strong individual, was selected the champion with the reserve going to a cross-bred bitch, Margaret, by the North Cotswold Marquis out of the American bitch Midge. W. D. Cleland walked the bitch, but she was actually handled in the ring and on the porch by Miss Muriel Cleland, well known showing rider.

Valorous was the 2nd kennel choice. Kinsman, a son of Trueboy, went unrewarded by the judges. Valorous was but the natural choice of the judges, for his sire Tailor was a son of Joe Kemper, formerly of Essex and now of Vicmead Hunt. Mr. Thomas is also high on the old veteran at Vicmead, and with Mr. Dean

Fire Light Captures Streett Memorial For Mrs. Douglas

United Hunts Enjoys Top Racing With President Waring At Piping Rock

Frequently there passes through the hour glass of steeplechasing immortality a man's name, so identified with the game and so revered by all his associates that a race is named as a constant reminder of his contribution to the sport. So it was that the inaugural running of the William B. Streett Steeplechase was held and Mrs. Frank M. Gould, an owner of this late and well known trainer-rider, presented a perpetual challenge cup which was contested for at the United Hunts spring meeting held last Saturday, June 14, at Piping Rock Club. A happy coincidence therefore it was that Mrs. Barclay K. Douglas, of Oyster Bay, L. I., also an owner of the late Mr. Streett, had the satisfaction of seeing her recently acquired Fire Light win the first running of this 2 1-2 mile brush event.

Mrs. Douglas, who races in the name of Mill River Stable, was anxious to have a starter in the Streett Memorial. She made inquiries, sought the advice of trainers Henry Frost Jr., and Jack Skinner, both intimate associates and friends of the late Mr. Streett and bought the greatly improved 6-year-old son of Our General—Candy Light from

Horsemanship Fills 12th Bronxville Horse Show

BY PROCTOR KNOTT

The attractive oval of the Bronxville Riding Club provided a pleasant natural setting for their 12th annual Horse Show, and an informal spirit prevailed as families came up to spend the day, have lunch at the counter car, and watch classes. It is to be regretted that the attendance was not larger, for the show was very well run under the management of John Nicholson of the Bronxville Riding Club, with the classes well spaced, and everything moving right along. However, it undoubtedly was affected by several local shows being held the same day, among them the Lawrence Farms Show at Mount Kisco, which attracted many stables which compete regularly, because it offered more hunter and jumper classes.

Many of the larger stables did not compete anywhere, being glad of the

er bodied mare all around, but there the comparison ends for when it came to performance, nothing at the Upperville Show could hold a candle to the champion. Alas is a truly great performer, moving collectedly at all of her jumps, never hurried, but never too slow, and with a lightness and real grace that bespeaks the true performer. In the lightweight hunters Alas received first honors with an excellent ride by William Yulle who gave the mare all of her schooling and is responsible for the making of a great show horse. She had one tick in the lightweights over the last jump but she had the best of the Springsbury Stables Highland Ace who went clean, the Benton Stables Woodrock with Miss Laura Sprague up who had the misfortune to slide into the last fence and a very smart bay mare of Miss June Hanes by the name of Siren who is also by Out The Way out of Lucy Glitters. Siren has a nice way of moving but her performance was not up to that of Alas and when it came to Highland Ace, this bay gelding of Mr. and Mrs. Greenhalgh, although doing a great job under Shirley Payne, was not up to the quality of Alas. Then it was on to the thoroughbred hunters for the Harrison mare and here she really clinched the championship. She put in a superb clean performance, jumping with great ease over the outside course, and beat the best the show had to offer including Mrs. M. E. Whitney's Spring Hope who was given second, Miss Betty Couzen's Repulsion, Highland Ace and Miss Rood's Moving Picture who refused at the in-and-out with a firmness that would have put a great many other riders off but not Miss Rood who was down from his ears and back in the saddle with the brown horse on his way again with real elat. From there it was the ladies hunters for Alas who again put in an absolutely clean performance, this time for Miss Frances Harrison who did the mare full justice. Great credit is due this young rider for Alas' phenomenal success. She rides with one of the best lady's forward seats, if not the best, one is given the opportunity to see. Although a comparative newcomer to the show ring, having showed in her first class this April, Miss Harrison showed beautiful balance, handled the mare with such confidence that the two looked as if they were thoroughly in accord and enjoyed each other's company to a degree. The ladies hunters was a fine class with Spring Hope getting second with Miss Ellie Wood Keith up, Balkonian 3rd under a nice ride from Miss Sue Fuller of Sewickley and Mrs. George Greenhalgh, Jr., getting a clean performance from Highland Ace, for 4th ribbon. The corinthian told a somewhat different story. Alas had a tick at the last fence and with this mark against her the judges promptly moved up Moving Picture on conformation, who had also had a tick, gave Miss Rood's mare first, Spring Hope second.

Hunting Notes:-

Dry Pastures Make It Important To Feed Hunters For Proper Nutriment

BY W. NEWBOLD ELY, M. F. H.

The drought is apparently almost nationwide and hunters turned out all up and down the Atlantic seaboard are showing the lack of proper pasture. Our vet, Dr. Rile has always advocated feeding some oats everyday even in the non-hunting season, but this year, with the best nutriment in the pastures burned up, it would seem especially important.

And if you can buy some good hay cheap now it would not be a bad idea, as this year's crop is not going to be anything to write home about.

Several requests have been received for information again on the Welsh ghost. The story is this. Several years ago while in Wales I kept hearing about the ghost who could be seen walking into a foxhound kennel each night, but never walked out. The English magazines even ran letters from eye witnesses and one of them mentioned the place—Machynlleth; so I wrote my friend, The Hon. R. Beaumont, M. F. H. of the Plas Machynlleth Hounds, who had let me have his Tactful, one of the best I ever hunted. Their master, his Majesty's Postmaster General, wrote me as follows:—"I have made inquiries about the story of the huntsman who was eaten. The true version is as follows:— It happened at Name kennels near Set-gelley in North Wales. The huntsman, hearing the hounds fighting during the night, put on his boots and walked out into the kennels in his nightshirt and nightcap. The hounds, not recognizing him in his night attire, attacked him and ate him."

A master friend of ours probably did not realize his risks when he went out to pet his hounds one winter night, and sitting on a lodging bench, having dined well, succumbed to the warmth of his beauties' bodies. He was found the next morning still peacefully in the arms of Morpheus. Incidentally I just got a letter this morning from my friend, Pete Lewis, deputy master of Lord Davies' Hounds, who is stationed in Northern Ireland, saying that the Plas Machynlleth Hounds were carrying on their hunt in northern Wales, one of the wildest sections in Great Britain and regularly kill their stout hill foxes without earth stopping.

Another request from India for some Welsh hounds recalls the hunting there. Hounds need a combination of very tender noses on account of the extremely dry ground, and tremendous stamina on account of the heat which gets up around 125 degrees. It is surprising that there were nineteen recognized packs in India, showing how our British cousins carry on their sport no matter where they are. The quarry is not the fox but the jackal, which is about twice the size of the average fox and is a muddy grey color. They run like our coyote, relying on their speed rather than their cunning. Their general diet is like a fox's except the jackal has a sweet tooth and bites the native sugar cane near the ground, sucking out the sugar. There are three types of pack: The first is the mountain jack, which gives terrific runs.—Col. Wakely writes that one took his hounds clear out of British India into the tribes near the Khyber Pass; the second is the country jack, which gives good runs but covers much less country, and the third is like some of our foxes—a slinking mangy jack which lives near the native villages and will not run worth a nickel. The Colonel has this to say about the hunting in India: "In Peshawar the local Parthans, armed with spades, sticks, and stones almost surround the covert. Their object, in all good faith and with the greatest good humor, is to encompass the early demise of the jack so as to save us the trouble of galloping after him. On several occasions I have ordered my field to gallop at the mob to disperse them, so that the jack might have some chance of breaking covert. As against this there are no poultry claims in India and no wire. The jack cannot get the poultry because the latter usually reside in the houses of their owners."

A Huntsman's Reminiscences In England

Some Notable Days With The North Warwickshire As Whipper-in 1896 To 1899

Editor's Note: We are greatly indebted to William Warner Justice, Jr., former M. F. H. of the Nantucket Harriers, 1926 to 1934 who was instrumental in securing this article, the first of a series from William Thompson, who acted as huntsman for Mr. Charles E. Mather, M. F. H. and later for Mr. Justice after he had stopped hunting the harriers himself.

BY WILLIAM THOMPSON

Mr. John Arkwright, M. F. H. with Lord Algon Percy, joint M. F. H. Tom Carr was the huntsman and an exceptionally good man, both in kennel and the field. We had many notable good hunts that stand out in my memory; one day particularly, we found three foxes in different places during the day and hunted and killed each one somewhere just under the hour in each case. There was a steady warm rain falling all day, ending up in a thunderstorm, to wind up just as we were ready for home, and we were twenty-five miles from home and everybody soaked to the skin; a real day's fox-hunting and a real journey home by road.

Another exceptional day near to the town of Rugby—found in covert named Lester's Price; ran a very big circle back to the place we found in and caught him before he could get to ground; very fast all the way. The fox was as stiff as a board when they caught him. Went on to another covert, found again and ran a twelve-mile point into the center of the Pychley country joining us, and caught him in the center of the large village of Long Buckley. All hounds were up at finish and all horses done to a turn, and out of a field of between two and three hundred only about forty at finish. We had fourteen miles to go back to Rugby where a special train had been ordered by wire, then eighteen more miles by train to Kenilworth. During the hunt I jumped my horse over a brook with stiff thorn hedge in front, which was afterwards measured by one of the members, hedge, brook and all, 28 feet from footstep to footstep. Only four jumped it clean out of a big field. There were fourteen in the water at one time, which was fairly deep, too. I saw one gentleman go under out of sight, but he got out and rode the run through to the finish and went home on the train with us. Two horses dropped dead during the hunt and several were left out at farms for the night. Brooksby, Captain Pennel Elmhurst, the correspondent for the Field, English, had a great write up about it. We usually took out about eighteen couples of bitches in that country; all grass, all fences jumpable, but strong and a beautiful hunting country.

Prior to this (1893-1895) I had a season with the Holderners, in York shire, a different country, nearly all plough land, a rougher although good sporting country where hounds had to use their noses all the time. Previous to that (1890-1893) I was with the Fernie, in Leicestershire, where Charles Isaacs was the huntsman, one of the Isaac twins of Will Goodall, of Pychley fame. He was the huntsman there for Lord Spencer, or the Red Earl, as he was called at that time, and there were a lot of very hard riders about that time who went out to beat each other over a country rather than see hounds hunt. They rode the best horses that money could buy.

Pictor Equals Track Record At Hollywood

*Challenger II Leads All Eastern Bred Sires In Races And Money In Month

Out at Hollywood Park, Calif., on Saturday, June 14, W. L. Brann's home-bred Pictor, son of his faithful and mighty Challenger II, equalled the track record for 7 furlongs, carrying 119, and hung up the $2,200 first money in his tack room, taking down the Class C Torismondson Handicap as Jockey G. Woolf rode. Pictor defeated a field of 10, as Jockey Westrope booted the favorite Sir Jeffrey, 115, to the place and Mr. Grundy, 109 took the show. This was the co-feature, backing up the Sequoia $10,000 Handicap, the California Oaks, which was won by Painted Veil and in which Happy Argo's Augury, 124, gave 14 pounds to the winner, to finish 2nd, taking the rich place end of the purse.

Maryland's Challenger II from week to week leads all other eastern-bred sires, from the standpoint of races won but not for total money. During the past month the Swynford sire has produced winners of 15 races carrying a total value of $10,800 in first monies. Virginia's Pilate, enjoying the success of his great son Eight Thirty, leads all the Old Dominion horses for the month, producing winners of 10 races, carrying a total value of $15,050 in first monies, top for Eastern bred.

The recent United Hunts races, reported upon in this issue, saw eastern-breds take down the major purses. Fire Light, son of Virginia's Our General, won the William B. Streett Steeplechase, romping 2 1-2 miles with ease, over a deep course; to bolster his winnings by $725. Brother Jones, son of the Maryland Petee Wrack, who once stood in Virginia, and where Brother Jones was actually foaled, won the featured Piping Rock 'Chase of 2 miles, worth $1,285, as the 3-year-old son of Quatre Bras II, Arms of War was ridden by his owner to win over 1 3-4 miles over hurdles and account for $690.

Sun Pharos, 4-year-old son of Sun Briar, took the secondary feature of the June 14th racing at Detroit, winning a $2,000 handicap at 1 1-16, going to the front, running evenly under a good rating and then going away at the finish, when he responded readily to a drive, substantiating his favorite choice. This was his 3rd handicap win in his 5 previous outings, in distances ranging from 1 mile and up.

Sir John S Tops Penn.-Ky. 'Chasers By 3 Victories

Five Major Steeplechases Carded Throughout Season Ending With Louisville

BY BOB RULE

The steeplechase season has closed in the Tennessee-Kentucky deep south and followers of the sport are ready to concede the 1941 championship to Sir John S., a splendid son of Bulse, owned by Messrs. Wilson and Jardon of Wilson, Ark., although he didn't win the year's standout race, the Iroquois Memorial, at Nashville.

They didn't ask Sir John S. to go in the Iroquois, but he won just about everything else they asked him. He was started in the secondary feature to the Iroquois, the Marcellus Frost Hunter steeplechase, and he made a show of the field.

The Arkansas 11-year-old started in 4 races during the season and won 3 of them. And the one time he was beaten he led the field for more than half the distance then decided to explore the fields surrounding the race course, running off the course.

After his victory May 10 on the Iroquois program, Sir John S., started in the Smyrna Steeplechase, and it was there that he pulled his fade-out after running a magnificent race, for half the distance.

The following week, however, he came back to soundly beat Lowry Watkins' Rockmayne, winner of the $1,500 Iroquois, and a field of other good ones in George A. Shwab, Jr.'s Foxview Farm steeplechase of 2 1/2 miles.

After the Foxview race, which had as its secondary feature a special match race between Polar Flight, owned by P. T. Cheff of Holland, Mich., and Favorite Son, owned by Hickory Valley Farm of Nashville, the steeplechasing picture shifted to Louisville, Ky.

Here Sr John S. completed his season of conquests, again beating Lowry Watkins' Rockmayne easily, along with 2 others, in the Oxmoor Cup Race at the William Marshall Bullitt's "Oxmoor Farm". Sir John's margin of victory at both Foxview and Louisville approached 10 lengths.

Recapitulating, we find only Sir John S. with more than one victory to his credit in the five major steeplechases held on the Tenn-Ky circuit this season.

Steeplechasing started at "Green Pastures", the Mason Houghland

Post Meridian Again In Limelight At St. Margaret's

BY WOOGIE

On Saturday, June 14th a good sized group from Baltimore, Washington and Annapolis appeared to show their horses at The St. Margaret's Hunt Club's 12th annual horse show. This year the proceeds went to The British War Relief.

The morning was a day made to order, but by afternoon all the spectators were driven to the shelter of their cars by torrents of rain. The show continued, and Post Meridian, owned and ridden by C. E. Lang, wasn't a bit perturbed by this downpour as he won both the handy hunters and open hunters, then the sweepstakes. Eileen Smith rode him into first place in ladies' hunters. Mr. Lang bought this 16.2 bay hunter, about 6 months ago from Colonel Sifton of Toronto, Canada; he is very much pleased with Post Meridian's splendid performances. Today won him possession of The Governor Albert C. Ritchie Trophy for a year, and title of champion horse. Reserve went to Nanette, owned by Mr. Charles E. Fletcher, who trailed the champion by only a few points.

Little Carroll Tischinger, upon entering the lead line class, spotted the smallest cup sitting on the trophy table, and said, "That is the one I want. With perfect assurance she went through her maneuvers, and for the third year walked off with first place; so she got the cup she wanted after all.

There was a brood mare class of which the thoroughbred division was won by Mrs. W. O. Tucker's Silver Cross by Messenger out of Silver Luster. The non-thoroughbred division went to Glen Colleen owned by Orlando Ridout.

The knock down and out, almost lived up to its name in more ways than one. Katherine Ridout on May I, had a narrow escape. She was down but not out. May I landed over the coop half and half, the front half over, the other half left behind. She struggled to get over but once a horse is perched in such a precarious position I don't see how they ever get back on all fours again. She fell back and was braced by Katherine, who was still in the saddle, and in turn braced them both by leaning against the wing post. Holding your horse up is no easy job, but fortunately her mother was in the ring and rushed over and somehow untangled the two of them. The class went on, jumps were raised to 5-6". Mr. Heiskall Gray's Mr. Taylor (reserve at The Suttland Show, last week) gave Post Meridian stiff competition, but the Canadian horse, was out to win today.

Three stablemates took the ribbons in open jumping: Parson, Post Meridian and Black Buddy. The latter also won pairs of hunters with May I as his partner. The spectators clapped for Katherine Ridout when she rode May I again, showing the sportsmanship that is always a pleasure to see.

SKY'S DOUBLE

laston Manor Farms' Retriever, and Miss Elizabeth Ginter's Sylvan Music, by Harmonicon. Just which of these could have been called the favorite is hard to say.

To me, Beau Soliel, was the dark horse in the picture; but I have seen the others many times and frankly, I am glad, I was not the one to do the picking. Retriever, a year ago was hunter champion at a show in Buffalo and at that time belonged to Mrs. A. E. Reubens.

The hunter class for horses other than thoroughbred went to Miss Virginia Scott with Rosedale Star, whom I believe to be by Rosedale II and therefore a grandson of the great Teddy while the thoroughbreds went to Miss Eleanor Pease's Speedy. In the hunter division of the show were classes for yearlings and 2-year-olds by thoroughbred stallions and bred, definitely, to become hunters. John Steele who is secy-treas. of the Genesee Valley Breeders' Assn., won both of these events, with Flora Girl for the yearlings and an un-named entry for the 2-year-olds. These two so closely resemble each other in color, height, and development that it would be difficult to tell them apart and will undoubtedly make a perfectly magnificent hunter pair unless by good fortune or otherwise they are sold separately.

The class for working hunters went to Douglaston Manor Farm's Martha H. whom I believe to be by Thunderation, but I did not have time during the show to check this with Mrs. Hugh Barclay, her owner. The 2nd was Sylvan Music, above mentioned, who put up a perfectly grand performance over an outside course which course was none too brilliantly lighted. (At best, a night show, out of doors is a real problem.)

The class for hunters ridden by amateurs went to Mrs. Reginald B. Taylor, M. F. H. East Aurora with Bright Lass whom I have seen in hunter trials at Genesee several times. Beau Soliel, also above mentioned won the light weight hunter class and J. D. McKinnon's Click Clack who was frequently in the ribbons at Lakemont on Memorial Day won the middle and heavy weight class. Beau Soliel had the best of the hunter stake with Mrs. Taylor's Woodman in for the red.

Beau Soliel had the hunter championship and Sylvan Music reserve.

The novice jumping went to John Vass with Little Man, a small, cold blooded gelding that can really jump, and surprised himself, his owner, and I guess everyone else for of the 14 entries listed in the catalogue and the big group of post entries all but two and Little Man stood over 15.3 and most of them over 16.1. The first open jumping class went to Frederick K. von Lambeck's Sports Head Lines. Mr. von Lambeck not only had the handling of his own string, comprised of Queen of Sports, Sports Head Lines, Sports Heigh-Ho, Billy Jade, and Sunrise but had the whole showing of Mrs. Robert A. Messler's Glen Oaks and Donald C. Brown's Colleen O'Donaghue by The O'Donaghue, and with this collection of great jumpers he captured at least one ribbon in every event in which he participated and in many of them more than one. For example: in handy jumpers he had the 1st with Glen Oaks and 2nd with Queen of Sports. In touch and out the blue went to Cecil Bronson's Kopper King, but red went to Queen of Sports and white to Sports Head Lines. Glen Oaks was 1st in knock down and out and Queen of Sports 2nd. Sports Head Lines had the jumper stake and was reserve jumper champion, while Glen Oaks had jumper championship and was 2nd in jumper stakes.

The horsemanship classes which are very close to my heart saw my good friend Robert Glover with Telpah by Lardi right on top whenever shown which completeness includes the horsemanship championship, the MacLay Trophy, horsemanship for Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts or 4-H Club members, and horsemanship riders over thirteen years of age. In the championship, the MacLay, and last mentioned classes the red went to Miss Romaine Solbert.

SUMMARIES

Need More Wins Over Best Time At Forestville

BY ANNE HAGNER

With a successful career in 12 races behind her, Marrian Curran's Need More, making her second appearance in a show ring, won the hunter championship of the Forestville, Md. Horse Show on Sunday, June 8.

The 6-year-old mare, daughter of Milkman winner of the ladies hunters outing and a variety of minor awards, piled up sufficient points to triumph over Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Bradley's toppy little hunter-hack mare, Best Time, who tied in points earned with Jackie Warren's David, but received the tri-color on the basis of conformation.

In the open jumping division, Dorothy Lee Counselman's high-flying thoroughbred, Way, formerly of U. S. Randle's string, was winner of the crown over Hammond Welsh's Hi-Boy. Way, with Mickey Magill up, won the scurry event over the outside course for his principal victory.

Miss Counselman's Dawn, another ex-Randle mount, was also pinned on top by Judges Otto Furr and Augustus Riggs in the open hunters class, over Need More, Kitty Smyser's Lurline, and Eva Rabbitt's new addition to the show ring, Jack's Queen.

Miss Warren's personable David, now hitting his stride to such an extent that onlookers predict a brilliant open jumping career, stuck to the hunter division to take the working and green hunters events, as well as a number of lesser ribbons.

Mr. Welsh's Hi-Boy, jumper champion at the Charles County (Md.) Hunt show the week before, saved his best performance for late in the day when he jumped 5'-6" for the blue ribbon in the skyscraper class over Heiskell Gray's reformed saddle horse, Mr. Taylor; Eddie Talbert's reliable gelding, Good Friday; and Lisbeth Stieg's Hi-Ho.

Charles Fletcher's Nanette, repeatedly lined up behind Best Time in hunter and hack events, finally came into her own in the consolation to top Miss Rabbitt's mare, Jack's Queen.

Mrs. Lee Counselman's Kristi, 5-year-old daughter of Lieut. Fred Hughes, Jr.'s Black Caddy, deserted her customary role of working hunter long enough to win the open jumpers, with Mickey Magill up, over Mr. Taylor, Fenton Fadeley's Cavalryman, and Miss Stieg's Hi-Ho.

Among the ponies, David Belding's well-mannered Star Boy and Star Way had things practically their own way in both saddle and jumping classes except for the Challenge Cup event, which went to George Rexrode's flashy Iron Duchess. Star Boy still had enough points to win the pony tri-color, however, with Iron Duchess close behind.

Nydris Chelsea Ruscus Outperforms Juniors In Circuit Opener

The annual Harrison horse show held on the Kentucky Riding Stable grounds at Harrison, N. Y., got off to a dusty but exciting start on April 27 as this first show of the metropolitan outdoor season saw Chelsea Ruscus, 11-year-old son of Campfire—Mesquite, enter his bid for the tri-color ribbon early in the day. The grand gelding belonging to Ray Allen Van Clief of "Nydris" Esmond, Va., is well known in the Eastern circuit for his consistent winnings and it was not altogether a surprise to his followers to see him capture the honored title of the show. Despite the competition of younger horses, Chelsea Ruscus held his own and was successful in winning the novice jumpers, hunters up to any weight, hunter sweepstakes and placing 2nd in the hunter championship preliminary. He was ridden throughout the show by George Petty, under whose able management he accumulated 13 points during the day.

Mrs. Elizabeth Correll's Dalchoolin was named reserve champion of the show, having acquired 9 points. Ridden by Gordon Wright, the imported brown gelding was a strong contender for the crown but was unable to bring his winnings up above that of the steady going old-timer.

J. C. Penney's For Sale gave a very good performance throughout the day, for which he was awarded 2nd place in open jumping, bars at 4'-0", open jumping, bars at 3'-6", touch and out, jumper sweepstake, and subsequently named the jumper champion. Kentucky Stable's Tecumseh was the reserve jumper champion.

UNITED HUNTS HAS A DAY AT THE RACES AT PIPING ROCK CLUB

Freudy Photos submitted this picture showing a start of a flat race for amateur riders back in 1912. Have a look at the seats and the manner of riding as they got away whipping and flapping almost 30 years ago.

Bert Morgan shot this one at last Saturday's Piping Rock-United Hunts Races, as the runners went by the club house contesting for the coveted trophy put up in memory of her good 'chaser "O" by Mrs. Norman K. Toerge. *DISPENSER gained a 3rd and retiring leg on this trophy for his owner, Richard K. Mellon, backing up TOOLBOX's wins in 1936 and 1937. Sweeping past above are l. to r.: John Hay Whitney's TORCH SONG, #2, *DISPENSER, Louis E. Stoddard, Jr's SCOUT WHISTLE, #6; F. A. Clark's NEBUCHADNEZZAR, Mill River Stable's PORT ALIBI, #3 and Montpelier's JACKET, #8.

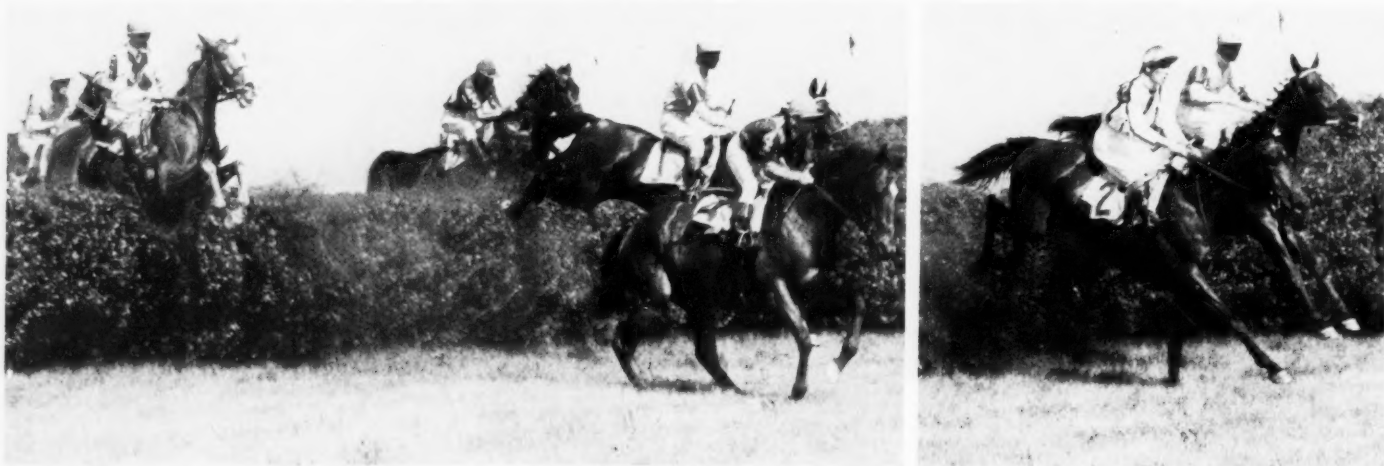

Rokeby Stables' MEETING HOUSE, under a spanking drive by H. Cruz, flashed to the finish to get a last stride nod over F. A. Clark's *ROGER O'CAHAN, to win The Silks, opening event at United Hunts. Mrs. Louis E. Stoddard, Jr's *MILANO II, 3rd, is not pictured.

FIRE LIGHT, #9, with Jockey W. King up, came home in convincing fashion to win the William B. Streett inaugural running at United Hunts. The magnificent trophy put up by Mrs. Frank Gould, a former owner for whom the late Mr. Streett trained was won by another owner, Mrs. Barclay K. Douglas' Mill River Stable, with Mr. Streett's former assistant, A. Fletcher saddling. F. A. Clark's TORTURER, #2-A and *LA TOUCHE are also pictured over the water.

DELAWARE PARK STEEPLECHASING GETS UNDER WAY WEDNESDAY, JUNE 11

Above are two Joe Fleischer pictures, showing the running of the Delaware Park Spring Maiden Subscription stake won by Harry La Montagne's LECHLADE, trained by Oleg T. Dubassoff. At left, over the 1st fence, Groton Stable's AMALFI, #4 leads the way, followed by F. Ambrose Clark's BLADEN, #1, Edward Jenkins' SUNBEE, #3, Mrs. Van Lear Black's STROLLING ON, #5, (at left); and Mr. Clark's TARA'S HARP. At right, over the 8th, J. Penrod and LECHLADE, #2, the eventual winner, commenced carrying BLADEN, #1, to the extent that he out-jumped the Clark color-bearer and brought him down at the 10th, to go on and win handily.

Kenneth N. Gilpin's BUCK LANGHORNE, #4, trained by Arthur White, was the odds-on favorite to win 2-mile-claiming 'chase, at Delaware last Thursday, June 12. Nine started, but one pulled up, others finished the course. BUCK LANGHORNE bested EPINDEL, owned by H. A. Dunn, by a head, ARCHERY, #6, finished 3rd, and CONGAREE, also of Groton Stable, #6-X finished 5th. Mrs. R. H. Crawford's QUAKERSTREET, winner of the Agua Caliente's Gran Nacional was 4th, trailing 31 lengths.

STEEPLECHASING AT SMYRNA AND FOXVIEW FARM, TENNESSEE

Jess Talley, Director of the Smyrna Tenn., Races and Horse Show, presents the Smyrna bowl, won by Thomas W. Bullitt's CORRUGATED, Ed. Lotze up, to Miss Barbara Bullitt. On May 10, CORRUGATED beat a field of 8, as Mrs. Con T. Ball's WELL SHOD and Guilford Dudley, Jr.'s YOUNG BATTLER finished in order.

SIR JOHN S., with his owner-rider Mr. R. E. L. Wilson, Ark., won the Foxview Farm 'Chase, of 2-1/2 miles, on May 17, beating Mr. Lowry Watkins on ROCKMAYNE, winner of the Iroquois Memorial. SIR JOHN S., son of BULSE, won 3 in a row in Tenn., and Ky., this spring. P. T. Cheff's PINE TAG and Thomas W. Bullitt's CORRUGATED are pictured finishing 3rd and 4th.

Notes From Great Britain

BY J. FAIRFAX-BLAKEBOROUGH

English Thoroughbred Breeder Carries On At Gainford Stud To Continue Famous Line

It is significant of faith in the future (and the near future at that!) and of the demand for bloodstock when sanity returns to the world, that thoroughbred breeders are sending mares to stallions which still command high fees. Of these Donatello II (by Blenheim—Dellana), and Foxhunter (by Foxlaw—Trimestral), both stand at 250gs whilst Precipitation's fee is 200gs. All three are located at Newmarket. Most stallion fees have been much reduced (both Donatello II and Foxhunter originally stood at 400gs), and the list of a number was full very early in the season.

One of many enthusiastic bloodstock breeders carrying on under the conviction that the thoroughbred industry is an important part of our national economy, is R. H. Edleston, who some three years ago founded the Gainford Stud, near Darlington. He was elevated to the rank of Baron Montalbo for his consular services to the state of San Marino, and for his interest and archaeological research in that country. The Baron has two absorbing concerns in life—archaeology and his affection for the racehorse. Added to the latter is an unbounded admiration for, and belief in the value to bloodstock breeding of the famous lines which made Turf history and did such good service to Mr. John Bowes (the 'all but' Earl of Strathmore) when he had his highly successful stud at nearby Streatlam Abbey. The fact that (amongst many other important races) Mr. Bowes won four Derby's with Mundig, Cotherstone, Daniel O'Rourke, and West Australian, and the St. Leger with West Australian, speaks volumes for the Streatlam harras. Mr. Edleston has brought back into the same district a number of useful brood mares which trace back directly to all the famous horses mentioned, and so, phoenix-like, the Streatlam Stud has been revived at Gainford.

I was not a little interested during a recent visit to the stud in a new roomy loose box which Mr. Edleston and his stud groom had built with their own hands in the paddocks near the house. It has mullioned windows (brought from Hornby Castle), and a considerable part of the substantial walls are constructed from stones carried from the river Tees which flows through Mr. Edleston's property. The stable will stand for centuries, like the work of the builder monks of old, and obviously the same thoroughness actuated the amateur Gainford builders as was the case with the ecclesiastics of yore.

The mares were all away visiting carefully selected sires (also rich in Streatlam blood), but I saw some promising looking fillies, and was much impressed by two of them. There is no doubt that Mr. Edleston is proceeding on sound lines and latter on some discerning buyers, who are not slaves to the much-overrated 'fashionable lines', will realise that the Gainford Stud is the home of potential classic winners, if they are given the opportunity. The whole underlying motif and objective is interesting, actuated partly by sentiment, but mainly on facts proven by Turf history and the acid test of the racecourse.

Mr. Edleston, who had horses in training with Ryan Jarvis before that young trainer went into the army, now has one or two with John Bell at Newmarket. The fact that he has a place at Cambridge is responsible for Mr. Edleston having his horses at headquarters and doing most of his racing in the south. I have visited most of the thoroughbred studs in Great Britain in my day but never have I met with men more devoted to their horses than Mr. Edleston and his stud groom. Their very intonation changes when speaking to them and one sees reciprocity in the horses. They are dealt with after the manner of rather shy and nervous children, and they respond to the treatment. Mr. Edleston, on his frequent visits to his yearlings, always takes a basket of sliced carrots, or some other 'titbit', and handles the youngsters, which will follow him like a dog. I have known some breeders and some trainers who discourage the practice of giving sugar, apples and adulation to thoroughbreds. Their theory was that all this makes them 'cheeky' and difficult to deal with later on. Such men advocate the complete subjugation of racehorses, the iron hand, discipline which makes for complete mastery, even if it also results in broken spirit. The weight of evidence is against this, but you can't convince some of the old hands that it is so. I'll back the methods of Mr. Edleston and his stud groom any day against those who 'keep horses in their places', as they put it. The Gainford yearlings are not pampered. Like those at Sledmere they run out all winter, having, of course, a shed in which they can find shelter when they so please. Harry Sharpe, a stud groom with long and wide experience in Canada and Ireland, in his book "The Practical Stud Groom", says:

"If any horse is fresh and unable to restrain his high spirits, all the thrashing in the world won't make him, physically, less fresh; it may cow him for the moment, or rouse his resentment. The principle of 'making haste slowly' applies with equal force to the breaking of yearlings as it does to the handling of foals. The work will proceed quietly and with a minimum of friction between man and beast, then there will be little risk of the stud gaining an unenviable reputation for the number of halter-breaking, bridle-shy yearlings it turns out."

Since these notes were written I have received a most interesting book "Training and Ownership", by M. Miller (just published at 1-6 by Knapp, Drewett and Sons Ltd, Kingston on Thames). I hope to refer at greater length to the volume later, but would now like to quote a sentence or two germane to the foregoing. Here are Mr. Miller's views on the treatment of young horses:

"Firmness is sometimes required, but there is always room for gentleness, and harshness and bad temper are faults in a trainer that wholly unfit him for his job. The foal is weaned at about seven or eight months, and this is a good time to avail yourself of every chance to handle him; he will soon begin to know you and after this backing and breaking is not so much trouble, and accidents are not so likely to happen."

When at Gainford I paid homage at The Hall to the thoroughbred stallion English Archer (by Bold Archer out of Bold Front). Not for time out of count has there been a blood sire located in the parish and the event has caused some little stir. Unfortunately Mr. John Harrison was away from home, being at Penrith bull sale. Shorthorns and Gainford Hall have long been prominently associated, though thoroughbreds are a new departure. I liked English Archer much. He is a horse with much bone and substance and has thickened out wonderfully since he won his first race as a 'wo-year-old' for Mrs. Hyman in 1938 at Catterick. In happier days English Archer undoubtedly would have been awarded a premium as a hunter sire. It is interesting to mention that he dovetails in with Mr. Edleston's scheme for reviving the glories of Streatlam Stud being a grandson of Miss Matty (dam of Papyrus) and so doubly descended from unbeaten Barcaldine, grandson of West Australian.

BENEFIT FOR HORSEMEN

A $500.00 contest is being held by the Horse and Mule Association of America for the best articles on riding trails. Wayne Dinsmore, secretary of the association in writing of the contest to THE CHRONICLE says, "For twenty years we have promoted horseback riding as the greatest of outdoor recreations. Our experience during that period has proved that the development of good bridle paths and riding trails will do more to increase horseback riding in an area than all other factors combined."

This sentence should be taken to heart by every horse owner, every person interested in raising and selling horses, every race track operator, every thoroughbred breeder, in fact, every man who owns a horse for even the man with one horse may one day want to sell him and it is the riding trails that provide the answer. There are too many horses on tracks throughout the country, too many horses who should not be racing because their quality is not good enough. There are too few good race horses, too few good show horses, too few good hunters. Why? Because owners have them, cannot sell them, and so keep them in circulation for want of something else to do with them. What are these inferior horses good for? One thing. Riding, but there are not enough riders. Provide the riders and the market is found for all of the low grade horses who make excellent hacks but very poor cracks and you have the secret to the worry of the breeder, the dealer, the race track owner, the racing public of where and how to secure more better horses for better sport in America.

Bridle trails. If there was ever an open sesame to a horseman, that is one! We all know riding is one of the most healthful of all recreations. It does not require a great outlay of money. It does not require a great deal of effort to learn. It can be indulged by old as well as young. It is one of the oldest sports known to mankind and one of the best and what are horsemen, responsible for its existence, doing to promote it. Very little with the exception of the highly intelligent work being carried out by the Horse and Mule Association of America under the able field work of Wayne Dinsmore. Mr. Dinsmore has dinned bridle trails into the heads of many people in the last twenty years and his efforts have not gone unrewarded. Twenty years ago around Chicago there were less than half a dozen stables and not more than 75 horses located near the Cook County Forest Preserve. A survey made in November, 1940 discloses that there are now in Cook County 93 stables and 2,719 horses using the Bridle Trails in the forest preserve. This excludes stables located around Chicago itself using the bridle paths in the city parks.

Carter Foster of The Plains, Virginia is always on the lookout for a good horse. Why? Because he had the foresight to start a riding place in Virginia where horse lovers could come and enjoy pleasant rides. His guests come from as far away as the middle west. If people will come hundreds of miles to enjoy riding facilities, what will millions do if riding is at their back door? Every horse association in America can have no more important duty than to sponsor and build riding trails outside of America's cities. Riding has been man's greatest recreation since the world began. Is this generation going to forget to ride because horsemen have not the foresight to grasp what a few thousand dollars judiciously expended in different localities can do in providing the necessary facilities?

If there were no golf courses, there would be no golfers. If there were no tennis courts, there would be no players. There could be no sale for clubs or racquets. Riding is a sport that is easier for the novice to learn the fundamentals than either of the above sports and to have more fun, with but a smattering of knowledge. If horsemen were wise and looking out for their own salvation they would subscribe to movements in every large city in the country to provide a good bridle trail of twenty miles or more around the city's outskirts. Bridle trails are a fraction of the expense of golf courses, have very little if any upkeep, and can provide enjoyment to many more people. People in the country who have the opportunity to ride, think enough of the sport to devote all of their leisure hours to it. What would millions of Americans think of it, if given the opportunity to ride in the country away from their hot city jobs? Instead of thousands of riders, there should be millions of riders and with the proper facilities there can be and horses will be at a premium.

Letters to the Editor

Pa.'s Alas

June 10, 1941,
Hawthorne Farms,
Berwyn, Penna.

Dear Sirs:

In your excellent description of the Devon Show giving due credit to the 1941 hunter champion Alas you state that Oh Dear, her dam, travelled to Virginia 9 years ago to the court of Out the Way, the Peter Pan sire, to return to foal Alas in the Philadelphia area.

I don't want to spoil your ideas of such a successful inter-state romance, but the fact is that Oh Dear traveled on her own good four legs over three miles of rolling Radnor Hunt country from White Horse, Pa., to The Leopard and met Out the Way at Hawthorne Farms where he stood for several seasons.

Wonder Boy, the sire of Oh Dear, also stood here for several seasons but after he left Geneseo, N. Y., where Mrs. Hubert Wadsworth bred Oh Dear. You are right on this but Pennsylvania will have to claim the credit for Alas.

Sincerely,

D. B. Sharp, Jr.

Editor's Note: Of further interest in the breeding of Alas is the fact that both Wonder Boy and Out The Way were Remount stallions both of whom are now dead, but which is but further proof if proof were needed of the excellent work the Remount has been able to do in producing top hunters and jumpers. We appreciate Mr. Sharp's trouble so much in giving us the correct data on Oh Dear's romance.

Ray Of Light

Gentlemen:

The Chronicle is certainly a ray of light in this terra incognita where people actually think that the gaited horse is the noblest of Gods' critters.

This is still a vaguely uncivilized country. The shows consist mainly of saddle horse and stock horse classes with one jumping class tacked on the end of each day, which is viewed by the populace very much with the same attitude as they used to watch the diving horses at the hippodrome. Jumpers and the people who ride them are still curiosities out here.

My own two horses have done nobly in this milieu. They have been entered in four jumping classes, won three, been 1-2 in two of them, and knocked off the red in the remaining event. Sentiments Dan (by Dan IV—Sentiment) has been doing most of the work with the old Martin (by Bard of Hope—Mintara) pressing to make him work.

If The Chronicle makes a Western trip again you should see this place. We have some of the top rodeo hands breaking horses for us and its really something to see. As a matter of fact the Remount service today is well worth seeing.

I should be glad to see that you get a close look at the depot.

Sincerely,

George M. Kaufman,
Captain, U. S. Cavalry,
Fort Reno, Okla.

Hunting Horn

Editor, The Chronicle
Middleburg, Va.

I enjoy every particle of The Chronicle, especially some of Henry Higginson's notes on English hunting. The horn he chose last season to hunt another pack for a friend, the age of the horn, etc. I like especially. I have the horn that called the last pack in from the match between Mr. Higginson and Mr. Smith in 1905, thirty-six years ago and often use it when the air is heavy and will not carry the sound of my other later one.

Very truly yours,

There were several clean performances, that of Miss Betty Couzens on Repulsion and those two hard working hunters of the George Greenhalghs, Billy Do and Big Boy who were given good rides by Miss Sue Bolling, but the judges put them out on conformation. After the preliminary in which the judges gave their conformation laurels to Moving Picture, with Alas 2nd and Spring Hope 3rd this gave Mrs. Whitney's mare the reserve having earned 3 seconds and a 3rd, Alas went home to her proud owners champion in a major show for the second time in two weeks. This mare is a great example of what government stallions are able to do for hunting horses, her sire being a Remount horse and her dam's sire, Wonder Boy, also from the Remount, her dam, Oh Dear, coming from Mrs. Wadsworth's in the Genesee Valley to Pennsylvania as a 4-year-old to become a 5 foot horse and a great favorite of the Harrison family and William Yulle.

The first day at Upperville in which the youngsters perform over the inside course held a surprise for spectators. Looter, a 16:1 chestnut gelding, 3-year-old, by Hi-Jack—Cassie is one of the most outstanding young horses now in Virginia, and decidedly one of the best horses Springsbury Stables has developed. He comes from Kentucky and was bought at the Saratoga Yearling Sales. He proceeded to win the middle and heavyweight 3-year-old class shown in hand, the 3-year-old hunters jumping 3 feet six and the middle and heavyweight green hunters. His nearest competitor for the 3-year-old championship seemed to be Spanish Oak, a 16 hand grey gelding by Lost Cause—Spanish Custom belonging to Edward Barker. This youngster is of rare quality and finesse. He was easily the best in the light weight 3-year-olds shown in hand topping Springsbury's Traumertan, Benton Stables Star Topper and a big chestnut gelding of Pine Brook Farm, O'Doc that should be heard from again. He was second to Looter in the 3-year-old hunters and 2nd to Crustin, a 4-year-old bay gelding of Meander Farms in hunters 4-years-old and under. Usually championship classes have a preliminary and the championship is then decided automatically on points. The judges gave a very literal interpretation to the rules of the championship 3-year-old class in which horses are to be judged on conformation and way of going, disregarded the line, "Horses to be eligible for the class must have won or placed second in a conformation class at this show," that would seem to point to some consideration for past performance and awarded the championship to Mathematician, a youngster of Meander Farms whose only qualification for the class was a 2nd in the lightweight green in which performance counted 50 percent, conformation 50 percent. There is no doubt that the 16 hand young son of Mr. Kyayyam who was bought at a yearling sale in Kentucky by Miss Julia Shearer, has very nice conformation and there is no doubt that the judges were correct in approving his somewhat finer quality to that of the more stalwart Looter, but it seems unfortunate that 3 blue ribbons should not receive recognition in a championship class. The judges may have felt they were judging a preliminary rather than the champonship. At any rate Mathematician is a very good 3-year-old, but he was not in reality, the champion 3-year-old at Upperville from the standpoint of performance as well as conformation. That honor belonged to Looter.

The touch and out, always appealing to the gallery, was no exception this year and at 5 feet the spectators were applauding the efforts of Miss Anna Hedrick's Madrigal Tom, Captain J. G. Minniece, Jr.'s Trail Bird, a Remount horse from Fort Robinson, Nebraska whom the Captain has brought along from a 2-year-old, and those two veterans, Billy Do and Big Boy. The going was slippery and Billy Do, who is the most noted open jumper of the group, slid into the five foot bar and stopped. Big Boy put in a tremendous last leap for Shirley Payne and gave this able youngster his second open victory at Upperville and the blue for Springsbury. Madrigal Tom and Trail Bird both ticked the 2nd fence and fought it out in another round for 3rd and 4th honors with Trail Bird jumping slowly and easily, doing the job better than the more rapidly moving Madrigal Tom.

Pony jumping found the Dunnotar Farms again in the ribbons. Miss Peggy Hamilton's nice little black mare Huntress was first; Miss Suzanne Eck's Moonstone 2nd; a grey gelding, Silver Sheen of John B. Gulick's 3rd and Color Guard of Douglas Simpson's 4th.

Hunt teams disclosed only two competitors, the Blue Ridge Hunt team of Springsbury Farm with Brown Bruin, Billy Do and Big Boy with Mrs. Greenhalgh, Jr., Shirley Payne and Miss Sue Bolling putting in a better performance than the U. S. Randle entry with Repulsion, Betty Couzens up; Troop, U. S. Randle up and Gee Ray Bee with Sue Fuller up. Judges threw out the performance for appointments and conformation, ruling out 3 Springsbury Italian saddles, and gave the award to U. S. Randle.

Ever since 1853 when Colonel Dulaney invited his friends of the countryside to come look at the young horses and watch them being awarded prizes, there is one great high spot at Upperville. This is the yearling filly and colt classes. The youngsters are led out under the big trees that have been there since long before the Colonel's day, where they stand in all their fresh glory for the countryside to see. Spectators will go a long way before they find in any other show in the country better yearling classes than those at Upperville or shown in a more perfect setting. A very dainty grey miss belonging to Westmoreland Davis by Supremus—Bunkum was awarded the blue over an unusually large youngster by the name of Hood Winked belonging to North Hill Farm of Mrs. Lily A. Livingston by Majority Rule—Shorly Story. Miss Elizabeth R. Turner and Mrs. W. Plunket Stewart won 3rd with a chestnut Milkman filly out of Hurry More while 4th went to Flower Maid, a chestnut filly by Grey Coat—Play Flower of E. L. Redmon's. In the memory of many oldsters, it was the largest colt class in Upperville history, 24 being led out to confuse judges by their size, quality and conformation. It took a long time, but, finally, a bay colt by Bad Hill—Swift Wing, forked a trifle high behind, but a fine big colt who looked as if he could run, received first prize for E. L. Redmon. Second went to another Bad Hill colt of E. L. Redmon's, a chestnut youngster out of Radio Star. A grey Kantar—Ann Arundel of Rock Spring Farm's was 3rd and a grand brown colt of running in that order. Owner Lowry Watkins thought more of Galsac than he did Rockmayne, so leased Rockmayne to Miss Barbara Bullitt for the $1,500 race. And it was Rockmayne who took down the $1,000 top money.

Howell Jackson's by Pilate out of a Black Tony mare, Blue Ensign was fourth. They were a hard lot to pick from and they made one realize that you can go a long ways but it is hard to find a better lot of quality horses than are seen at the two day Upperville, Virginia show under the old oaks at Grafton.

At Smyrna the following week both Sir John S. and Rockmayne ran off the course and failed to finish as Corrugated, Wellshod and Young Battler showed the way home in that order.

Sir John S. started his bid for the season's jumping championship the following week at "Foxview Farm" winning easily in one of the most beautifully-run races of the season. George A. Shwab, Jr., young master of Foxview Farm, put over one of the season's standout secondary attractions by matching P. T. Cheff's Polar Flight, winner of two straight flat racing starts, against Favorite Son, Nashville—owned and heavily backed.

It was the first match race in middle-Tennessee since the day of Andrew Jackson, and the large crowd got the utmost in entertainment when one of the best came home the winner.

Sir John S.'s victory at Louisville in the Oxmoor Cup Race ended the season and gave middle-Tennessee every reason to look forward to a great season in 1942, when the Iroquois Memorial at Percy Warner Park will have its second running under greatly improved conditions.

There is an ever-so-slight chance that the Iroquois program next year may be turned into a three-day meeting with nothing but steeplechasing and flat racing on the program. But more about that later.

Black Satan Scores Top Performance At Briar Cliff

BY EDWARD DICKINSON

Black Satan, a huge, black gelding, owned by Mrs. Blanche Welch and formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bush, knocked over the blue in the opening jumping and knock down and out classes at the 3rd annual Briar Cliff Horse Show, out Niagara Falls way. In the latter event he was the only horse to pass the 2nd jump. He was ridden for Mrs. Welch by Stanley Bush. The show was held on June 8 and saw Charles K. Bassett's *Tambourine win the novice jumping with Walter Arenz's *Dublin Queen taking the red. Walter Arenz's other entry, Red Cloud by *Allemore did not fare so well in the jumping classes but had the 2nd in road hacks where his stable mate, *Dublin Queen, was 3rd and George Haber's Buddy B who has been winning road hack classes all over western New York had the blue.

"Gene Hawkins" Kopper Kelley had the 2nd in the open jumping and John Boles' The General had the red in knock down and out.

The children's horsemanship class went to Miss Patricia Frey, who also won the horsemanship class for amateur riders.

Troop Outdistances All Performers At Deep Run

BY JUDY MOLTER

The Deep Run Hunt Club Horse Show at Richmond, Va., on June 7 and 8 supplied two stories. It was a success story for that matchless performer Troop, as he captured the championship ribbon for the U. S. Randles, of Washington, D. C. The other was a short and sad story, as we found Miss Eleanor Moffett and her personable mare, Candolette, on the sidelines during the two days, instead of adding to the competition. Candolette was unable to compete in any of the 14 classes in which she was entered, due to illness on Friday before the show.

Troop, as his gallery well know, is a striking big son of Golden Broom out of Marching On, with a good reputation to live up to. With Frost Anderson in the saddle, Troop did not disappoint his new owners or his public. He started collecting ribbons Saturday afternoon by turning in a sterling performance in the thoroughbred hunter class to take the blue, and repeated his victory by winning the corinthian class later in the day. Under the flood lights in the model hunter Saturday night, judges Crompton Smith of Middleburg and Jack Carpenter of Greenwood again pinned him on top. Sunday afternoon was another full one for Troop, as he added his points toward the tricolor up to 23 1-2, besting all comers in the middle and heavyweight and working hunters, as well as placing 2nd in the handy, ladies' hunters and hunter stake.

Four were qualified at the end of the day to hack in the champion hunter preliminary. Gee Ray Bee and his stablemate Troop, Miss Ellie Wood Keith's Primavera and Allen H. Smith's Bon Matin. They were pinned in that order.

The reserve hunter championship ribbon went to Allen H. Smith's 4-year-old gelding Bon Matin, a half-bred by Boy Beauty. Ridden throughout the show by Miss Bruce Bowe of Richmond, Bon Matin put up a topnotch performance to win the halfbred hunters and placed 4th in the corinthian on Saturday. Sunday afternoon he proved himself again and gave Mrs. Bowe the opportunity to present her daughter with the trophy that went to the winner of the ladies' hunters.

The other 2 eligibles competing in the championship preliminary, Gee Ray Bee and Primavera, both made their bids for honors early in the day. With her owner up, Primavera turned in many a neat round and was constantly within the ribbons on Saturday. Sunday afternoon she took the blue with a magnificent performance in the hunter stake class, as well as showing them the way in the class for handy hunters. Gee Ray Bee showed his winning ways and was pinned on top in the lightweight hunter class, and then went on to place 3rd in the corinthian and green hunters.

The class for green hunters brought out another nice one in Meander Farm's 4-year-old Lisco. She fenced nicely to win that class, and went to 2nd place in the thoroughbred and lightweight hunters.

Dr. E. T. Trice's Soothsayer was going well, and upheld local honors by taking the veterans and pleasure horse classes for Deep Run Hunt Club members only. Arnold Scruton had a clever, big son of War Whoop down from his Warrenton stable, Whoopy Bobby, who stands 17.1 hands. Whoopy Bobby hit his stride on Sunday and placed 3rd to Bon Matin in the ladies' hunters with Mrs. Scruton in the saddle.

A great favorite with the grandstand, Mrs. K. M. Bruce's little Silver King topped them all in the open jumping division. Billy Friedhoff had the mount on Silver King, and the combination took first prize money in the jumper stake, open jumper and knock-down-and-out.

Entries were heavy and competition keen in Saturday morning's junior classes. Outstanding among the younger generation riding was petite Gloria Galban, of Charlottesville. After winning the horsemanship for children-under fourteen years of age, 8-year-old Gloria rode Grover Vandevender's Princess to win the junior corinthian class, and showed Trophy to advantage in the class for pony road hacks.

Good weather brought out a large crowd both days, but Saturday's spectators were treated to an added thrill. Seven stallions were on hand to compete in the class for thoroughbred stallions, and Blenheim II's got scored two victories that afternoon. The Kilmer Estate's *Hilltown, recently leased by R. S. Reynolds, Jr. was awarded 1st place, just as Whirlaway's win was being rebroadcasted to the excited throng.

Another of the added attractions Saturday was the auction of the 2-year-old gelding donated to the British War Relief Society by Mrs. Marion du Pont Scott. Captain W. M. Bayliss of Richmond got him for a mere $500. Two greyhounds were also auctioned off, the pair bringing $45.

More Horsemanship Classes Over Fences

By Elizabeth Grinnell

It has always been my conviction that the prize list of every horse show should be overhauled annually to make sure that progressively unpopular classes are eliminated before they become a total loss but, while the horsemanship section of the average show is more inclined towards a healthy increase than it is towards any signs of deterioration, I still feel that it is badly in need of revision.

During the past ten years, the competitors in horsemanship classes have undergone a marked change, as far as ability and inclination are concerned, and yet the majority of prize lists offer practically the same opportunities that they did a decade ago. Isn't it about time that some of them were revamped with an eye towards substituting more classes for horsemanship over fences for some that are now straight saddle classes or even adding them to the present programs? A fifty-fifty division of the two departments with separate championships where conditions warranted and time was available does not seem, under present conditions, an unreasonable suggestion.

Occasional shows have already adopted this procedure and they have enjoyed an enthusiastic response but it hasn't, as yet become a general practice partly because there has been nothing to call attention to the advisability of a change. Horsemanship classes are apt to fill pretty well anyhow. They are one section of the show where the hard working secretaries can sit back with a sigh and let the entries drift in of their own accord, and so, year after year prize lists offer the same classes varying only in number from novice classes through to championships in straight horsemanship while, far too often, the only class listed in this section to be shown over fences is the Maclay Cup.

There are some reasons for adherence to this rule other than the fact that the classes fill well regardless. So many shows now are for hunters and jumpers that the straight equitation classes provide an interlude to the everlasting jumping. Then, too, classes for children usually require especially built courses which hold up the program and delay things generally. There is no doubt at all but that watching an endless number of children gallop around the ring over 3' fences is a dreadfully dull business for almost every one concerned. There is the added likelihood of accidents and the normal fear of fond parents for the safety of their offspring. Added to all this is the fact that to show in classes over fences the children must be equipped with horses that are reasonably apt to jump consistently.

On the other side of the platform, however, are not only any number of reasons in favor of classes over fences but a number of suggestions which, if adopted, would practically do away with many arguments against them. That they would be carefully considered with regard to the contestants available goes without saying. That should, of course, be true of every class at any show.

In the first place the very fact that so many shows are for hunters and jumpers is proof of the general trend towards this type of riding. In fact, if a child of a hunting community hopes to continue showing horses after he graduates from equitation classes, he is practically forced to take up jumping because saddle horses are no longer included in many programs, and even when they are the ones that are shown by amateurs are few and far between. In contrast the ranks of the jumping jocks are full of graduates from the horsemanship classes and many of the present competitors will jump off a horse that they have just ridden in a difficult open-to-all class or over an intricate outside course to sit pretty on a pony for a couple of turns of the ring over silly little fences that the rider could clear from his own feet with no trouble whatever. It is rather ridiculous when you stop to think of it. Since courses for horsemanship over fences have to be especially prepared, why not fix courses that will be real trials for the contestants? A fence in the center of the ring at right angles to the course, three fences at close quarters to be taken at different speeds, any sort of "handy hunter" performance provided they are not so complicated as to prolong the program unduly would not only be a more practical examination of ability but far more entertaining for contestants and spectators alike than the present merry-go-round procedure.

Danger? If it were thought advisable, contestants could be asked to qualify for the more complicated classes or they could be open only to entrants who had already proved their ability by the winning of certain classes in the past. This would have the advantage also, of curtailing such classes for the trouble is far more often with too many entries rather than too few.

As far as the horses are concerned, the chief value of equitation classes should be in the practice for preparation. It is the child that can train both himself and his mount to do what is to be required of them in the ring that will be the top rider in the end, for while the shop window type can put up a passable performance on a made horse for a time, when it comes to a tight fit where every bit of head, hand and legwork count, sitting pretty just isn't enough.

Who would have thought, when the vogue for equitation classes first started, that fifty or sixty children could be put through performances on the boards and figure eights with the accuracy and dispatch that has been shown by the entrants in the Garden Good Hands Cup? And these children, after all, represent only a small number of the young horsemen and horsewomen in this country that are capable of these and even more complicated maneuvers. It would be difficult indeed to find half their number in adults. Has it done them any harm to learn to do these things accurately and well? Certainly not, because not only will this knowledge add more pleasure to their riding, but even if they were never to get on a horse again for the rest of their natural lives, the patience and co-operation that this study has taught them will always be valuable.

Doesn't it seem out of proportion then, when straight equitation classes have advanced so definitely that classes for horsemanship over fences should remain in about the same stage that they were when they started? Wouldn't it be practical for those horse show secretaries who have already made up their prize lists to study their shows this year with regard to future alterations and for those who have not already done so to look over the ground, question possible exhibitors and discuss ideas for experimentation? Probably the right formula will not be found immediately but even in trial and error this section of the shows could be used to better advantage from both the spectators and contestants point of view than it is at present.

Beagles

By EDWARD M. WARD, JR.

Today, June 14, we journeyed forth to Katonah, sadly foregoing the United Hunts meeting at Piping Rock, in the expectation of seeing a good turnout of hounds in the pack class. The idea of having both beagle and foxhounds shown, five couples in each pack, the staff to be in livery, is a new and very excellent one and worthy of more support than it received. As it was, two packs turned up. Philip K. Crowe's Kingsland Beagles were the only foot pack out of six who had promised to show and won Best Pack over the Fairfield, the only foxhounds that were sporting enough to turn up. Joseph B. Thomas, that truly great sportsman, was greatly disappointed at having such a small entry to judge. The beagles showed in excellent condition considering the fact that it is an off-season just now. Both packs were brought into the ring at the same time and both behaved well until the Fairfield huntsman touched his horn. At this the beagles became confused and got mixed up with the foxhounds who then didn't know what to do and trotted over to Phil Crowe so that there were hounds all over everywhere until the whips could manage them.

The Buckram master, John Baker, spent a great deal of time on the telephone this last week asking for advice from various people about how to remove paint from a hound's coat. You see the kennels have just been painted then it rained for three days pretty steadily and kept hounds in their lodging rooms. These days most of the pack is badger-pyed.

The master of the Covellane writes that he has a couple of thirteen inch bitches to draft. Richard V. N. Gambrell would let two or three couples of his Vernon Somerset Beagles go.

Luckenbach dominated not only the walk, trot classes, but the galting class as well.

The best entries of the show were in the horsemanship classes, and many of the children who were contestants the day before at the Metropolitan Equestrian Club's Show were on hand to compete again on Sunday. Miss Carol Jane Allen, just home from Oldfields School in Maryland, won the age class of 12 to 14, on My Golden Dream, while Miss Carol Marie Penney followed up the two blues she won the previous day by again winning her age class, (up to and including 11 years) on her horsemanship mount Bay Rum.

Miss Meade received top placement in the A. H. S. A. Medal Class, with Miss Joyce Schmidt second, and the Metropolitan Equestrian Club Medal Class, with Miss Lurline Eberhardt second. The upper age class was won by William Steinkraus, with Miss Meade placing second, and the final championship class was decided in the same order, after Mr. Von Lambeck requested change of mounts and a figure-eight. The deciding factor in the earlier class was an extended trot and a hand gallop and stop by the contestants.

In place of the customary Eastern Saddle Horse Breeders' Class, a local Challenge Trophy class was offered, the Westchester Horse and Horsemanship Class, both horse and rider counting 50 percent, based on the same requirements, but restricted to residents of the county. In this Miss Meade's Lucida Bourmont was victor, with the chestnut gelding Major, ridden by Miss Mary Pilliod, second.

Miss Eberhardt's versatile mount, Woodland Sparkling Peavine worked smoothly to win the road hack class, while the bridle path hack class brought the blue to Miss Allen's My Golden Dream.

Miss Joyce Schmidt topped other contenders to win the good hands trophy, presented on the same basis as the former A. S. P. C. A. class, and Seville Funk placed ahead of Miss Patricia Henline to win the MacLay jumping class. All of the local riding academies were represented at the show, and many entries were made by pupils of Frank Carroll, Homer Hayes, the Montclair Riding Club, the Bronxville Riding Club, and the nearby Wilmot Riding Club.

Children were the only contenders in the jumping division, and it was the diminutive Miss Ann Morningstar who won the jumper championship sweepstake. Her six year old bay gelding Mickey Rooney jumped the course with two ticks, and knockdowns by the other horses made jump-offs unnecessary. A local horse, Mrs. Berent Friede's chestnut mare Co Co was best in the touch and go and children's jumping classes, while George Allers' five year old grey mare Platina won the hunter hack and the light, middle and heavyweight hunter classes.

The show was judged by Col. Wm. H. Henderson for the saddle and bridle trail classes and the hunter and jumper division, with Walter Von Lambeck judging the horsemanship classes.

and others, considers Tailor one of the finest American hound types he has ever seen.

Tailor was shown later in the day, when a visit was made to the kennels. He indeed is a superb specimen, a striking hound and even with age is difficult to fault. The judges again were strong in their praise, "the most beautiful hound I ever looked at". Tailor's son, Vagrant, was 3rd in the dog event, a full brother to Valorous, a grand type, though slightly wing-footed and thus was 2nd to Trueboy's son Knight-hood. All three dogs were walked by Anderson Fowler joint-M. F. H., with Kenneth B. Schley, who was in attendance at the show.

All the bitches were considered very much below the par of the dogs. Fidget, light but faultless, also by a North Cotswold hound, out of the American bitch Flighty, was walked by Clarence Dillon, taking 2nd, as Trueboy's daughter Tidbit was 3rd.

A number of beagles enthusiasts were on hand, including Richard V. N. Gambrell, M. B. Vernon Somerset, Ted Ward, of Buckram Beagles; Mrs. W. W. Trimpi, M. F. H. of Nantucket Harriers, who is shipping to the island this week 2 with 14½ couple of hounds and 5 horses and Ted Lucas M. H. of Whiteoakes.

All of the puppies had returned from their walks some months previous, so there was no consideration given to condition and manners individually.

The entry of 1942 was inspected and were in wonderful coat and of great promise.

Dogs—1. Valorous, by Tailor—Vengeance (Anderson Fowler); 2. Knight-hood, by Trueboy—Kare (Anderson Fowler); 3. Vagrant, by Tailor—Vengeance, (Anderson Fowler), 14 entries.

FIRE LIGHT

Dr. Herbert Howard, of Leesburg, and trainer Louis C. Leith of Middleburg. Fire Light had come from the hunting field the previous year, raced to win his first start over brush at Middleburg for Crompton Smith, after getting his first brush jumping lessons from Mr. Frost, Jr. He then went on to 3 more triumphs in 1940 at the big tracks, also running 2nd on 3 occasions. He substantiated all advance appraisals, was saddled by A. "Pewee" Fletcher, the late Mr. Streett's right hand assistant, took command after the first 1-2 mile and galloped a 6 horse field into submission, winning by 10 lengths as Charles D. Pierce's Frantz Wilhelm took the place from the F. Ambrose Clark entry of Torturer and La Touche. The pace was exceedingly quick for the first part, yet Fire Light, carrying top weight of 160, held well. Two of the contenders had to be pulled out, pumped out on the soft turf.

Lewis E. Waring, president of the Hunted Hunts Assn., and Earl S. Potter, secretary, deserve great credit for the highly successful day's racing, the "best in history of Piping Rock" according to F. S. von Stade, of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Assn. Piping Rock Club welcomed the first return of racing in 20 years, except for the golfers. The United Hunts Assn. was host for the day on the premises. Portable jumps were set up; a miniature mutuel machine installed; bleachers were erected and the paddock was fenced off back in the woods. Hundreds of Long Islanders and their friends sat about luncheon tables on the Club House esplanade, where they could enjoy an excellent view of the entire course.

The feature of the day, the Piping Rock Cup, of 2 miles over brush, with a purse of $1,500 added, was won by Harold E. Talbott's Brother Jones. In light at 136. Jockey J. Gayer gave the Petee-Wrack-Mari-del 5-year-old a deserving ride, held him in contention, yet off the pace, and went to the pace-maker Bay Dean, carrying Mrs. Arthur White's colors, as his 159 lbs. began to tell. The sod of several decades, which had not been raced over for over twenty years, fortunately was of such texture that the deluge of rain the previous night had not made a quagmire of the 1 1-4 mile layout. The day was clear, but overcast.

Six went postward in the Piping Rock Cup, with Thomas Hitchcock's Naruna, 148, the favorite at even terms. A. Scott was up and he became separated from his mount, when the Trace Call gelding made an unfortunate blunder several fences from home, for the only casualty of the day. Brother Jones won galloping by some 15 lengths, with Alvin Untermyer's Kellsboro the next best, a 30-1 shot, leading home Mrs. James C. Clark's Little Cottage II by 5 lengths. The winner put in at least two bad jumps, though the fences were very moderate and horses were able to get through much of the brush.

From the pure horse-racing excitement angle, the first race, The Silks brought out 7 in a cracking contest. Jockey S. Riles on Mrs. Reginald Sinclair's Yemasee cut out the pace, to turn things over to R. V. N. Gambrell's Tioga at the 9th, who in turn let the 60-1 Roger O'Cahan, of the F. Ambrose Clark string, do the front running. His bad jumping error late in the race, at the 12th, put Tioga out on top again and it was not until these two had landed over the final and 15th that Rokeby Stables' Meeting House could be considered. Jockey H. Cruz got the 6-year-old Sun Chamer gelding running in the 1-8 mile stretch. In the last 50 lengths, he caught a full 10 lengths on the leading Roger O'Cahan and won by a head.

Mrs. Marion du Pont Scott's Montpelier Rouge Dragon, 3-year-old by Annapolis, was the long-shot winner of The Syosset, of 1 1-2 miles over hurdles. Jockey E. Jennings was up to send the gelding galloping, by 10, with G. C. Tuke's King Cob, in 10 lbs. heavier, at 145, getting the place. John Hay Whitney's North Sea, 135, took the show. Eight started, Mrs. Sinclair's Cat-star refused when a contender.

For sentiment the William B. Streett 'Chase was pleasing to his many friends on hand for the racing, though actually the late gentleman trainer-rider would have been the first to have declaimed it as being well raced. The riders disregarded the thought of the 2 1-2 mile distance, starting out as though they were going 3-4's on the flat. Fire Light put in four bad jumps, with W. King doing everything to hold him up. Then after Mr. E. H. Bennett on Thomas Leiter's Tim-rock (formerly ran as Lew Park) and Mr. Sidney Watters Jr., on Whitelaw Reid's Bagpipe, pulled up with their horses cooked, rough riding commenced among the remaining. The winner was supposed to have pulled across one of the Clark entry, then there was retaliation and the Clark entry, with Jockey Rich on La Touche and C. Brooks on Torturer united against Fire Light and Jockey McGovern on Charles D. Pierce's Frantz Wilhelm was in there for good measure. The Clark entry was finished under whip and drive, when the best reward remaining was the show.

Mr. George H. "Pete" Bostwick is a favorite of the favorite players. His ability as a rider is worth 10 lbs. In the Bowman he was on Mrs. Bostwick's Arms of War, in lightly at 135. He waited, waited, until the last 1-2 mile, then sent the 3-year-old Quatre Bras II son up winging, to come quickly in the stretch and win by 5 under a hand ride. J. W. Brown's Brown Prince III took the place from the Sanford Stud Farms' L'Odeon who faltered from pacemaking efforts. Mr. Clark's Brandywine Fox was well up at the 3rd from the last hurdle, when he put in a bad one to finish 4th.

Richard K. Mellon's grand old campaigner Toolbox won the "O", (named for Mrs. Norman K. Toerge's 'chaser of other years'), back in 1926 and 1937. Thus it was that H. Cruz's heady ride on Dispenser, 145, retired the challenge trophy. This 1 1-4 mile flat event saw Mr. Whitney's Torch Song finish 2nd and Brookmeade Stable's $22,000 yearling Romanov take the show.

The Cocktail Party Sweepstakes, of 6 furlongs on the flat, was run in 2 divisions. William Woodward's Bolivar, with Jockey J. Stout up, in at 144, was an eased up winner, for Belair Stud whose silks are rarely seen at hunt meetings. It was a bad start that sent away this group, after a long post delay. Mr. Bostwick was left cold on Mrs. Bostwick's Halcyon Days, 128, and sagely enough didn't try to see which way they went. Louis E. Stoddard Jr.'s black and white colors were brought home in the place by Deserter, J. Penrod up, and Mr. Whitney's Sweetie Pie, running for the day in Philip Fell's name, took the show.

The 2nd division of the Cocktail Party stakes was won by Mr. Whitney's The McClain, handily. Jockey J. McGovern had the ride on this 4-year-old Royal Minstrel gelding, named for John McClain, formerly ship news reporter in New York, now writing scenarios out in Hollywood, great friend of Mr. Whitney's. Brookmeade's Seafight, by Annapolis, was 2nd as the other half of Mr. Whitney's entry, Trade took the show.

Two well known riders, J. Magee and F. Bellhouse, were on the sidelines, the result of recent croppers. F. Bellhouse is convalescing as result of Bladen's mistake in the Delaware Park maiden stake.

moods and tenses as few men ever have. From the inside out and the outside in. Through and through, back and forth, in and out, the entire fabric and structure; not only of the breed of horses, but the racing organization itself, its human personnel, from the great magnates at the apex to the swipes, the touts and the heelers at the bottom—the cream to the dregs, their where, how and why. All their ins and outs, ways and means, pedigrees and performances, were to him much as an open book.

Before becoming connected with The Jockey Club, he had seen a valuable apprenticeship in racing administration as a track official, while as his father's son practical knowledge of horses and horsemanship was his birthright.

This rare equipment was superimposed upon just as rare a nature. Its rarity was indicated that though his life was passed in a professional capacity—that most deadening vocation so far as sportsmanship is concerned—he remained nevertheless true to the sportsman's ideals and cleaved to them under all circumstances with the most tenacious hold.

Though, owing to his position, with the most intimate knowledge of what might be termed the behind-the-scenes of racing, as familiar with its seamy as its sunny side, its shadows as its pageantry, he remained always true to its highest ideals and an active force in their upholding.

"All men are equal, on the turf and under it," was the maxim of the celebrated British "Dictator of the Turf," Admiral Rous, of the Victorian era. But like all much-quoted aphorisms, this was to be accepted with reservations. There is equality—of a sort. Beneath which is the inequality which nature has ordained in making every human being a new creation, wholly independent in his individuality of all his fellows.

Both the equality and the inequalities of "life on the turf" for forty years had been mercilessly exposed to the gaze of Algernon Daingerfield. Being a man of great intelligence and keen perceptions, of both wit and wisdom, he was able to weigh and estimate them for himself.

Ordinarily such a process results in what has been termed an enlightened cynicism.

That which it had bred in Mr. Daingerfield was not the ordinary temperament which the phrase implies. He was not cynical. But he might at time have been thought so by one unfamiliar with the true man. Instead he was a realist but one who nevertheless had not lost his belief in the glory and grandeur of the thoroughbred and the greatness of the sport in which he is the central feature.

Himself the expression of an age-old human culture, he loved honor, tradition, loyalty, and all their attributes. He had no use for the modern near-things that seek to masquerade in their places and disdained to dissimulate his opinions. Never a seeker of the limelight, or easy "copy" for the publicity hound, when he did choose to talk or write for publication it was always with pith and point and often with a freshness of view that came almost as a shock to those who think in clichés and talk in stereotypes.

He was, in short, himself a thoroughbred in all he said and did. An exemplification of blood, breeding, and performance. He passed through many trying times and strenuous experiences, for during his four decades with The Jockey Club, the turf experienced all the ups and downs of fortune, and at times seemed near to the very articulo mortis. All this left its mark upon him, for he was sensitive as well as strong. The pressure under which he lived and worked undermined a naturally fine physique, his health had been shattered for several years past and at the end "Death came with friendly care."

Following the exit from The Jockey Club's personnel of the late W. S. Vosburgh, who retired as its official handicapper and acting steward at the New York meetings in 1934 after a service of just forty years, the passing of Mr. Daingerfield removes from the scene the two men who, throughout its history, have been longest before the public as officially representative of it when the rules of racing and breeding have found formal expression.

That, however long it may continue to exist, it will again have upon its roster a pair so efficient, so universally honored and respected, and so worthy of that estimation, we cannot reasonably anticipate. For such men may have successors—but no more than that.

Mr. Daingerfield, however, like Mr. Vosburgh, has not departed without leaving behind him something more than a noble name and revered memory. His daughter, Miss

Front Royal Show And Sale Ties In On Defense Plans

The Front Royal Remount Horse Show and Sale on June 27 and 28 provides a novel experiment for it is an effort to bring to America the advantages of selling horses that are enjoyed by the exhibitors at the great Dublin Show in Ireland. One of the reasons for the fame of the Dublin exhibition and why it annually draws thousands of people from all parts of the world is the sales that are continually being carried on each day, commencing with the daily yearling sales where so many of Ireland's best youngsters are auctioned, to the sales of the older horses.

The effort of the Remount Service to impart a sale atmosphere to its two day show and aid breeders and dealers to sell horses, is all the more interesting when coupled with the National Defense Emergency which has stepped up Government buying of horses a hundred fold and brought thousands of horses to the Remount each month to be gotten ready for service. The entire Remount at Front Royal is a veritable beehive of activity and where there were but a few horses seen grazing over the hills on the government's reservation outside of Front Royal, the pastures are now literally covered with them as they go through the prescribed period of inoculation, tests, and general fitting for army work as cavalry mounts. The show fits in very well with this stepped up program of work at the Remount. Instead of a one day show, it is a two day show, and a great effort has been made by Colonel Pleas B. Rogers and his staff at the Depot to secure many of the best show horses on the circuits as well as numerous excellent prospects who will be exhibited and afterwards sold.

Margaret Daingerfield, for years past has been his first assistant and an indispensable fixture in The Jockey Club offices, as well as one of our most accomplished writers upon turf topics. While Mr. H. O. Vosburgh has acted regularly as one of the stewards at the Metropolitan tracks since his father's retirement and death.

Belmont Reflections

After the excellent Belmont Park meeting which came to a close with Whirlaway's gallop and Chucky's 2nd win over the infield fences there, it is gratifying to consider the improvement in the class of horses running through the field at the big tracks today. The day of the converted cast-off seems to be about over. F. Ambrose Clark's string is an example. He has the best stable he's had in years. The winning efforts of Bladen and London Town were sensational in their respective ways and Castletown and La Touche promise to "click" at greater distances over the big du Pont courses, perhaps at Delaware. It is good to hear that Cottessmore will be back at the races in the fall and that "Pete" Bostwick expects to ride him in the Belmont Grand National. In the meantime Sussex is proving an adequate substitute.

*Stefan the Great

*Sussex's Meadow Brook triumph at Belmont recently brings one to the thought of his sire *Stefan the Great. This late grey son of The Tetrarch, foaled in 1916, was returned to England in 1929. During his stay in this country, from 1923-1929, he got such good ones as the famous Bushranger over brush, Indigo, over timber, at the Elmen-dorf Stud of Joseph E. Widener.

Three Horse Corinthian

Arch Hero, Satilla and Ossabaw ran 1-2-3 in the Corinthian at Belmont and this was all the field there was to contend for this rich chasing stake. The 3 horse Corinthian thus came in for some pretty severe criticism, although unbiased observers seemed to feel that all was alright. Arch Hero, but recently out of the $1,500 and $2,000 claiming ranks on the flat had previously given notice of his class over jumps, whereas the renowned Ossabaw just didn't choose to run. If a horse doesn't run his race on the flat the race is "thrown out." If a "chaser" doesn't the whole sport is "thrown out." Audax Minor in The New Yorker wrote: "Improvement of steeplechasing note: Every jumping race last week at Belmont was won by the favorite". What if favorites won 100 per cent of the time. This might ruin the game. As it is the favorites are apt to win about 50 per cent of all the steeplechases against some 33 per cent, a high, for flat races.

Versatile Walton

Alice Walton was very active throughout the Allegheny C. C. Horse Show recently near Sewickley, Pa. She took 2nd on Spanish Spar in the ladies' special hunter class, slid down off the Rolling Rock Farms pride and joy 4-year-old and drove Glenholme Farm's Glenholme Sovereign to the blue in single ponies in harness under 13.2. She took many fine awards for the Adrian Van Sinderen string, driving these ponies with rare ability, as the genial William C. Cox, of Cohasset, Mass., the Wall Street Journal publisher, judged.

All Alike's

For racing purposes, during the past several years, Richard K. Mellon obtained all the produce of the English matron Alike. By Southan-nan—Very Same, she is well named.

Mrs. Mellon has named Alike's progeny well: *Different II, the 5-year-old; *Similar, the 4-year-old; *Duplicate the 3-year-old and *Replica, the 2-year-old.

Scranton's Show

Major Lee White is hard at work on the 6th annual Scranton Horse Show. The secretary advises that there will be $2,500 in cash prizes with $250 stakes in the hunter, jumper and saddle horse divisions. John W. Morris, of West Cornwall, Conn., and Col. D. Douglas Young, of New York are the hunter and jumper arbiters.

Lexington Ky., Show

Mrs. H. S. Vance, president of the Lexington Kentucky, Junior League Horse show, to be held at the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Assn's track, on July 16 through 19, advises that the prize list carries $11,335 as the total cash distribution. Classes will be for breeding, saddle, harness, walking horses, hunters and jumpers, with stakes in each division. Judges will be H. C. Barham, Milan, Tenn., Thomas Clark, Devon, Pa., and Welch Greenwell, Shelbyville, Mo.

"Phew, Horses!"

One of the few things in Williamsburg, Va., that has not been rebuilt or restored is an old 4 wheeled coach in the stable of the Wyeth House. The educational program of the Rockefellers has been beautifully carried out and with a little make believe sightseers can easily imagine they are seeing the real thing. So well has the process of educating America to its historic background been carried, however, that tourists apparently enjoy the "make believe" better than the real thing. While sitting on the coach listening to the pleasant sound of horses munching their feed in the neighboring stall our reverie was interrupted by two sightseeing ladies who poked their noses into the stable and dispelled any dreams we might have been entertaining of other days when the coach was in its shiny glory. The ladies eyed us curiously and peered into the stall. "Phew, horses," one was heard to exclaim. After all! Can the Rockefellers be expected to invent mechanical horses or perhaps the Restoration has erred in not using wooden ones to pull their coaches.

Just Like Comedienne

For Upperville's three and four-year-old classes the versatile "Debby" Rood produced her 3-year-old Carrighater for the 3-year-old hunter class. Up against Looter, Mathematician, Spanish Oak and Port o'War, the competition was severe and Carrighater was not in the ribbons in spite of a performance that left the gallery gasping. The only thing that could be compared with the way this son of Constitution jumped his fences was well expressed by one spectator after it was all over. "Just like Comedienne at Rose Tree." He stood back from the wings and flew each one and the last jump he was hardly in the wings before he had taken off. It was a clean performance. "Spectacular, but a little bit chancey," according to one of the judges but being a real horseman, he must have envied Miss Rood her ride. It was a way of going, when everything clicks, you don't easily forget. After winning the 2-year-old class at Devon last fall, Carrighater had never been in a show ring until Wilmington, and has only received 8 schools in his short life. He had the confidence of 8 years experience and a couple of Maryland Cups. Eleven blues and reds in 13 classes was his record before Upperville.

Bus- Miss Fuller

One of the busiest young riders at Upperville last Saturday was Susan Fuller. Up on Gee Ray Bee and Troop in the Corinthian, Balkonian, Troon, Gee Ray Bee and Rascality in the Ladies and a number of other rides besides, this fair 16-year-old gave some exceptionally nice performances. She hunts with Rolling Rock in the winter, hailing from Sewickley, Pa. She sits very quietly and makes them go without turning a hair. Horses go very well for this young horsewoman.

Oconomowoc's Horse Show

Fred Pabst, president of the Oconomowoc Horse Show at Pabst Farms, Oconomowoc, Wis., has sent out his prize list for the Oconomowoc Hunt Show on July 11th and 12th. Entries close the 30th of June for this A. H. S. A. show which will have as its hunter, jumper and breeding class judge, Bernard E. Hopper of Grosse Pointe, Mich. The hunter breeding division has 4 classes shown in hand. The hunter classes include in addition to the hunt teams, a class for pairs of hunters shown abreast over an outside course with riders in corinthian or military uniforms. It should prove a colorful class. Officers include Mrs. Orton L. Prime, George F. Markham, W. Brock Fuller, all vice presidents, Clement Hackney, secretary and treasurer and Henry Youmans, assistant.

Piping Rock's Jumps

Special portable jumps were improvised, made off the premises and then brought on to the Piping Rock Club grounds to be quickly assembled for the steeplechasing there last Saturday. Under the direction of the able president, Lewis E. Waring and secretary Earl S. Potter, everything was in order, appropriately laid out for the most critical of all inspections. Liverpool, open ditches and all were constructed, with special tar-paper boxes to hold the water, and all were carried off almost before sunset, so that the Piping Rock Golfer did not have unnecessary hazards on Sunday rounds.

The 2nd annual York Horse Show Pa., will be held at Haines Park, on June 28, carrying a card of 19 classes. Virginia R. Elliott is secretary.

Sands Point, June 29.

The 8th annual Sands Point Show, Sands Point, L. I., is slated for June 29, and will bring out many local Long Island exhibitors, to contest on the Edgar F. Luckenbach estate for the benefit of the Village Welfare Society of Port Washington. There are 32 classes arranged with Thomas W. Clark, of Devon, Pa., judging saddle horses; Mrs. John Gerken, Brooklyn, equitation; Henry L. Bell, Bayside, L. I. and Harvey S. Ladew, ex-M. F. H., of Monkton, judging hunters and jumpers.

Fairfield County's 66

This year's Fairfield County Hunt Club Horse Show, in Westport, Conn. June 26-28, lists 66 classes for hunters and jumpers and junior horsemanship. Entries are expected to exceed 1,000. There are 3 $250 hunter stakes in the working division; a the stiff stake course at Delaware Park, merely tantalized contenders with his ease of negotiating the about 2 miles and 12 fences. Like a gigantic, indefatigable hare, he out jumped and out raced his pursuers; they looked like beagles in his wake.

The final order of the finish was almost the same as that at the 1st fence, when F. Ambrose Clark's *London Town, 150, F. Bellhouse up, followed Mandingham, who had been sent away winging from the start. This good winner of the recent Belmont Park meeting, son of Brighter London got nearest to the winner, at the 10th when Mandingham, 143, made his major mistake and the two were head-and-head.

On paper this contest fashioned by handicapper Edward Brennan looked to be the greatest contest of the year, yet the class that Mandingham displayed forbade it being more than a follow the leader race. *London Town got to Mandingham only for a moment 1-2 a mile from home. Jockey Roberts gave Mandingham a 100 yard breather, to enable him to recover from his mistake over the 10th, then clucked to him and away he went, regaining his command and never again being threatened. Over the last Mandingham's rider did not fight to keep him on the inside, the shortest way to the finish, but let him bear slightly out to meet his fence properly, which he did, though going deep, and at the finish it was a margin of 5 lengths of daylight back of *London Town, who had 15 over that cracking 4-year-old Arch Hero of Sanford Stud Farms, with Jockey W. N. Ball up.

Nine went postward. Louis B. Mayer's great stakes winning Ossabaw, W. Leonard up, ran an as entry with E. B. Schley's *Dolly's Love, another outstanding championship contender, with J. Penrod riding. C. Mahlon Kline's Our Sailor, with young Mr. Morris H. Dixon Jr., riding and *Filip II, W. Gallaher up, also ran as an entry. This foursome was well bunched 5 lengths back of the leader, until the 5th where Our Sailor, winner of the Georgetown in $300 young hunter stake, a $300 working hunter stake, a $500 jumper stake and $500 conformation hunter stake. The first day's receipts will be donated to the Conn. Children's Aid Society.

Middleburg Canteens

The Hunt Country of Middleburg will dance Monday night, June 23, in the School Auditorium from 9 'til at the British Relief Dance. Music will be furnished by the George Washington Hotel orchestra. Headed by Mrs. W. C. Seipp, Mrs. R. F. Tartiere and others who have done such wonderful work in the local Bundles For Britain chapter, the proceeds will be used in paying for a mobile kitchen which will be sent to the Borough of Fulham England. This will be the 9th canteen from Middleburg, the 3rd to be sent to this particular suburb of London where such terrible havoc has been caused by bombing. One of the canteens already there was sent by Miss Charlotte Noland last year, and the local people have been working very hard to make it possible to send the 3rd one over.

Watertown's 2 in 1

The Watertown Horse Show, Watertown, Conn., June 22, will attempt to hold 43 classes in one day, concentrating a planned 2 day event in 1. For the benefit of Bundles for Britain, Jack Prestage, honorary huntsman of Watertown Hunt will have the guiding reins. Two courses will be utilized. Judges will be Jack Spratt, Westbury, L. I., for hunters, and Theodore Wahl, Greenwich, Conn., and Mrs. Peter Drever, of Bedford Village, N. Y., for equitation and jumpers.

1938, when he ran in 3:46 2-5, shipped his rider, son of the well known Philadelphia trainer. Groton Stable's Salem, F. Maier riding, was in the secondary group, a contender for the place throughout, but faltered in the final mile, to finish 6th, back of the Ossabaw-*Dolly's Love entry. Mrs. Gwladys Whitney's Rhadamanthus, with the only other gentleman-rider of the day up, Mr. F. H. Powers, dogged it throughout, bringing up the rear.

Mandingham, who won $7,100 for his owner, bringing his total winnings to over $10,000 in 3 jumping efforts in two years, well substantiated the faith and patience Rokeby Stables connections and trainer Mr. Skinner had in him. Bought for a goodly sum from Mr. du Pont in the fall of 1939, misfortune immediately set in, with an injury sustained in his stall. Time, that greatest of all healers was prescribed, for "What wound did ever heal but by degrees", Mr. and Mrs. Mellon were willing to wait, for Mandingham in his flat racing days had won the Santiago Cap at Santa Anita, had run a mile in 1:37 at Santa Anita, was good enough to start in the Santa Anita Handicap in 1938, where he fell, and as a 2-year-old was known to work 1-4's in :22. It took time! Mandingham did not come out until 1940 when he won the Delaware Spring Maiden 'chase, on June 12. Then he was retired for the year. He got his conditioner last week, June 13, when he won eased up.

Never having had much contentment, never having been pushed, The Georgetown was Mandingham's big test, with almost every starter a stakes winner. How he galloped, the time is a good indication. The previous record was set by Mr. Clark's good *Bachelor Philip last year in The Georgetown, when 3 45 3-5 was recorded. Mandingham lowered this by 3 full seconds and over a fairly soft course. So fast he flew that he stood back in the middle of the wings over the open ditch in front of the stands, landing way out on the other side of the big fence, despite taking a lot of brush with him.

Great credit should go to John Bosley Jr., trainer, for the tremendous improvement shown by Mrs. Van Lear Black's Strolling On. This 4-year-old *Strolling Player son has been knocking right along at the leaders this season, back of such good ones as Lechade, Bladen, *Chaloner and others.

On Tuesday, June 17, Jockey N. Brown had the ride on Strolling On, as he has all season. He took his mount to the front, who fenced faultlessly, established an uncontested command from the outset and won as he pleased, after doing away with Mrs. Arthur White's Roll and Toss bid. He had 25 lengths to spare in front of M. B. Stone's Kiltrap. So decisively did he win that Delaware Park race-goers gave him a big hand. Last season, in his few races, he was a difficult ride.

Middleburg trainers Jack Skinner and Arthur White combined on Thursday and Friday, June 12 and 13, to take over the winner's purses in the two 2 mile steeplechases at Delaware Park. Mr. White saddled Kenneth N. Gilpin's Buck Langhorne, put up his colored contract rider "Colonel" Brooks, who squeezed speed from the former good flat horse in the final stages and nipped H. A. Dunn's Epindel, with Jockey E. Roberts up, by a slight head. The Dunlin son did not win over his fences, but rather on the flat from the last home, where he took command from Epindel who had taken over from Mrs. R. H. Crawford's pacemaking Quakerstreet, winner of the Gran Nacional last winter in Caliente.

This contest brought out 9 starters, all completing the 15 jump course, except John Bosley Jr.'s Brown Imp, 30-1 shot, who bobbed badly at the 6th and was pulled up. Groton Stable's entry of Archery, who finished 3rd, and Congaree, were well up in the contending flight throughout.

Mr. Skinner got great satisfaction with the manner that Rokeby Stables' Mandingham went out and handled himself in the $1,000 allowance race of 2 miles on Friday the 13th. Mr. Skinner had all but succeeded with Epindel the previous day and was actually using Mandingham's effort as a tightener for the $6,600 Georgetown Handicap. Jockey E. Roberts was up, taking the son of *The Satrap, out of the Man o'War mare, Float, to the front from the start. Bayard Sharp's Millrace, gave another Wilmington horse, Mrs. Esther du Pont Weir's *Golden Oak repeated contention, though neither got to the winner, who was eased up by 15 lengths at the finish, after a breath taking bobble at the last. *Golden Oak was almost a length in front of Millrace, both horses getting their first outings this year, the former not having been out since his match race over hurdles in Aiken when he lost to F. Ambrose Clark's *Bachelor Philip.

The Morris Dixon trained Kiltrap, owned by M. B. Stone, running for the 1st time since he essayed 6 furlongs at Narragansett in 1934, finished 4th. Groton Stable's Susquehannock finished last, he too running for the 1st time since October at Belmont. The lone two starters, previous runners this season, were Simoon, owned by A. C. Bostwick, and U. Sullivan's Corkonian. These two went down at the 2nd, when Simoon collided with the latter.
